Day 03 – New Delhi

India Gate At Rajpath

New Delhi

From the labyrinthine streets of Old Delhi, emerge in to the wide open spaces of imperial New Delhi, with its ordered governmental vistas and generous leafy avenues. Those with an appreciation for colonial architecture will marvel at Sir Edwin Lutyen's buildings such as Viceroy's House (Rashtrapati Bhavan), Parliament House and the India Gate, one of Delhi's most famous landmarks.

Rajghat, the cremation site of Mahatma Gandhi is also a popular place for visitors.

Delhi's Southern Landmarks

You can visit the capital's southern sites covering Humayun's Tomb and the amazing Qutub Minar.

This Qutub Minar complex in South Delhi houses structures dating from the Slave Dynasty (1206-1290) and is designated as a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The Qutub Minar (1193 AD), is the tallest brick minaret in the world (238 ft) and an architectural wonder of India.

Humayun's Tomb is one of Delhi's three UNESCO World Heritage Sites. The tomb is located in large, immaculately maintained gardens in the Persian Char Bagh (four corners) style that have been thoroughly renovated and are consequently probably the best in Delhi.

Day 04 – Agra

Audience Hall At The Red Fort Of Agra

Agra – Red Fort

People sometimes forget that Agra contains more than the Taj Mahal. The 16th century Mughal monument known as the Red Fort of Agra was built by Akbar the Great (1556-1605) is in fact a walled palace that remained India's premier city for almost two centuries.

The powerful fortress of red sandstone encompasses, within its 1.5 mile-long enclosure walls, many fairytale palaces such as the Jahangir Palace and the Khas Mahal, audience halls such as the Diwan-i-Khas, and Sheesh Mahal (The Glass Palace) which is inlaid with thousands of mirrors and was once the harem's dressing room.

Dawn On The River Yamuna At Agra

Day 05 – Jaipur

The Beautiful Taj Mahal At Agra

The Taj Mahal

Sunrise can be devoted to the world's greatest monument to love – the Taj Mahal. Set overlooking the River Yamuna, the Taj was built by Emperor Shah Jahan to enshrine the body of his favourite wife in 1631. To truly appreciate the wondrous Taj Mahal and its many moods, you should aim to visit it at dawn or dusk when the reflection of the sun changes the colour of the dome from white to shades of pink.

Fatehpur Sikri

The deserted city of Fatehpur Sikri was the capital of the Emperor Akbar between 1570 and 1585. Due to a severe shortage of water the city was abandoned after only fifteen years and the capital was relocated back to Agra. As a result Fatehpur Sikri stands untouched and perfectly preserved, a complete medieval fortress of red sandstone, with vast central squares, exquisitely carved multi-tiered pavilions, cool terraces and formal gardens.

Day 06 – Jaipur

By Elephant Back To Amber Fort

Jaipur

The old Pink City of Jaipur is an essential stop in any tour of Rajasthan. It has a stunning backdrop of ancient forts like Amber that stand as dramatic testimonials of a bygone era and a reminder of their lingering romance. All seven gates into the old city remain, one of which leads in to Johari Bazaar - the famous jewellers' market that has the best selection of precious stones in India.

The magnificent City Palace was built by Maharaja Jai Singh in 1728, enclosed by high walls and set amidst fine gardens and courtyards. It is now a vast museum with exhibits that have lost none of their splendour. The Jantar Mantar Observatory is a fascinating astronomical observatory with massive instruments used to predict the monsoon and identify the movements of the stars.

The Palace Of The Winds (Hawa Mahal) is Jaipur's most acclaimed attraction. Built in 1799, overlooking one of the city's main streets to offer the women of the court a vantage point, behind stone-carved screens, from which to watch the activity in the bazaars below.

Amber

Amber is situated about 7 miles from Jaipur and was the ancient citadel of the ruling clan of Amber. The Amber Fort (1592) set in picturesque and rugged hills is a fascinating blend of Hindu and Mughal architecture. The forbidding exterior belies an inner paradise with a beautiful fusion of art and architecture. You have the added attraction of an Elephant Back Ride to ascend to the top.
